Call for papers and participation:
2nd regional meeting & scientific conference of management departments

MANAGEMENT, ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND ORGANISATION IN XXI CENTURY: Regional exchange of best practices, to be held in October 2012

on the premises of Faculty of Economics in Mostar, Bosnia & Herzegovina

Dear colleagues,

After the successful first meeting and the scientific conference of management departments from the region, organized by the Faculty of Economics Split and Faculty of Economics and Business Zagreb in September 2011, Faculty of Economics at the University of Mostar and Faculty of Economics at the University of Sarajevo announce the Second regional meeting & scientific conference of management departments. We continue to strive toward realizing the ambition of creating a regional forum for exchange of ideas related to research and teaching in the fields of management, entrepreneurship, organisation/organisational theory and information technology.

The regional approach re-emphasizes the collaborative approach in scientific and professional work, as well as enables our younger colleagues to meet their peers throughout the region, establish new professional links and exchange opinions and best practices. We would like to contribute to a wider dialogue within the profession in the region and, therefore, participation at the Conference is encouraged for all those who will be either presenting a paper, or intend to actively contribute to discussions and exchange of best practices.

The title of the Conference remains bound to our future-looking orientation - MANAGEMENT, ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND ORGANISATION IN XXI CENTURY, with the new emphasis on the regional exchange of best practices. We kindly ask all the esteemed colleagues to submit their abstracts, addressing one of the following topics, or any other relevant topic, to be discussed in the general framework of the management, entrepreneurship and organisation in the XXI century:

2nd Conference MANAGEMENT, ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND ORGANISATION IN XXI CENTURY: Regional exchange of best practices

CONFERENCE TOPICS

• Management
  o Emergence of post-industrial management: is there empirical evidence for changing management practices throughout the region and its convergence toward the 'post-industrial' paradigm?
  o Industrial management: can we live without industry and what can management do about the (re)industrialization of the region?
  o Management education trends and practices: where are examples of good practice within the region and how can we exchange them?

• Organisation
  o Flexible and virtual organizations: is there really a drive away from the traditional organizational structures in the region?
  o Business process optimization: where do the regional enterprises stand?
  o Innovation in organizing: where are innovative opportunities for organization of profit, public and nonprofit organizations in the region?
Leadership
  o Leadership skills: are there 'new leaders' in business, public and nonprofit sector in the region and how did they emerge?
  o Democratic/people-minded leadership: do the regional managers practice it and do they want it, at all?
  o Leadership for corporate social responsibility and social change: is there a tendency toward socially responsible leadership and how to encourage it?

Entrepreneurship
  o Entrepreneurial infrastructure and policies: do we assess what works in one context (and what fails), and how do we exchange those lessons?
  o Regional entrepreneurial initiatives: how to build enterprises and enterprise networks across the region?
  o EU accession and regional entrepreneurs: what are the examples of good practice in using EU funds and how to transfer knowledge on project management (and other relevant tools/techniques)?

Information Technology (IT)
  o Information technology investment: what are the best practices in assuring success of IT projects in the region?
  o Regional IT providers: who are the regionally relevant/successful IT providers and how to follow their example?
  o High-tech sector development: is there any evidence on development of high-tech clusters and/or networks in the region and how to foster them?

We especially welcome papers on these (or other relevant) topics, concerned with tools and methods of identification, benchmarking and exchange of best practices within the region.

All professors, assistants and other faculty, researching and teaching in the field(s) of management, entrepreneurship, organisation and information technology in the wider region are encouraged to participate at the Conference. The working languages of the Conference are Bosnian, Croatian and Serbian, but contributions can be also submitted and presented in English. We ask all participants kindly to submit their contributions in any of the previously listed languages, in Latin alphabet.
