

AUTHOR GUIDELINES

Kroatologija – the Croatian cultural journal of the Centre for Croatian Studies at the University of Zagreb – publishes original, previously unpublished articles which have been refereed by two reviewers and which are categorized. The articles may be submitted in Croatian or another language. Two copies in A4 paper format should be sent to the Editorial Board at the following address: Kroatologija, cultural journal, Croatian Studies, Borongajska 83d, HR-10000 Zagreb, as well as one copy electronically to kroatologija.casopis@hrstud.hr. Any pictures or graphs included in the article should be submitted as separate files. If the article makes use of special characters, it should be submitted in Word doc and pdf format with the appropriate fonts attached. Articles should be no longer than approximately 30 000 characters with spaces.

- The article must be in 12pt Times New Roman font (notes in 10pt) and line spacing 1.5 must be used.
- Author details (name and surname, institutional affiliation, full postal address and e-mail address) are listed in the header at the beginning of the article.
- The abstract and key words in Croatian, i.e. the original language used in the article, appear below the title, while the summary and the title in English (i.e. Croatian, if the article is in another language) appear at the end of the article.
- Notes are placed at the bottom of each page, not at the end of the main text.
- References appear at the end of the main text, before the summary.
- Headings and subheadings should not appear in block capitals; bold and underline functions should be avoided.
- In-text references should appear in the body of the article (Babić 1999: 24) or (Barić et al. 1995), while in the References section the list should be in an alphabetical order and in a format consistent with the following examples:
