COIN HOARDS IN CROATIA – AN UPDATE ON THE CHY

UDK: 904:737.1(497.5)
Izvorni znanstveni rad

This paper is an update to the Croatian part of Mirnik's Coin Hoards in Yugoslavia (CHY).

It is divided into 3 parts. The first part discusses newly discovered hoards. The second discusses potential hoards, while the third part provides information on hoards listed in the CHY that were discussed by other authors following its publication.

Key words: CHY, Coin Hoards, Croatia, supplement.

Ključne riječi: CHY, ostave novca, Hrvatska, suplement.

It has been thirty years since BAR published »Coin Hoards in Yugoslavia« by Ivan Mirnik. The CHY is the first synthesis covering such a wide geographical area, the area of a state that does not exist any more, discussing coin hoards from the first appearance of money to the mid-19th century. In the meantime, a considerable number of new hoards have been found, while those enumerated by Mirnik have often been discussed. The data presented here were obtained from various sources, mostly from archaeological and numismatic literature, but also from archive files and newspaper articles, and through personal communication. The initial idea, which was to cover at least three constituent republics of the former federation (now independent states), proved to be a little too optimistic, and it has been reduced to a more manageable task. This paper is intended to represent an update on the CHY for Croatia only, and it is hoped that in the future it will be continuously updated with new data. The methodology used here is, for the most part, taken over from the CHY, with minor modifications where required.

The paper consists of three main parts: the first part discusses the hoards discovered after the CHY was published; the second part discusses potential hoards, that is, those that cannot be placed in a chronological context, or about which there is insufficient information, or which are unidentifiable by other criteria. The third part discusses the hoards that were listed in the CHY but have subsequently been discussed by other authors, or some new information concerning them has been discovered, and they are presented with an updated bibliography.

The newly discovered Greek and Roman hoards are schematically displayed in the following way:

Site, date of find.

tpq/taq (terminus post quem/terminus ante quem); metal (no. of coins), denomination (no. of coins).

State or region: type of coins or ruler (no. of coins and type of denomination; for more than 3 denominations, small letters mark each denomination (noted above) beside the number).

Mint or mints: mint (no. of coins).

Disposition (no. of coins).

Bibliography.

The mediaeval, early modern and modern hoards are displayed somewhat differently:

Site, date of find.

tpq/taq year; metal (no. of coins), denomination (no. of coins).

Empire or Kingdom; Kingdom (as a part of the Empire)/Region/State/City (Mint): Ruler – year (no. of coins, abbreviation for the denomination if required).

Disposition: Place of keeping (no. of coins).

Bibliography.

When a description of a hoard deviates from the scheme and/or certain information are missing, that is because it is lacking or nonexistent. I hope that this supplement/update will make a useful contribution to the future research of coin hoards. I intentionally chose this volume of Vjesnik for publishing this paper since I want to dedicate it to my dear mentor, advisor and colleague Ivan Mirnik.

⁸¹ gift of Franjo Schossa. I would like to thank Hermine Göricke-Lukić for the information about this hoard.

⁸² The author (KLIŠKIĆ 2006a) proposes AD 1491 as the year of the burial, although, on the other hand, he, in the same time, believes that it should be put somewhat earlier. Taking into account the composition of the hoard, I am inclined to put the tpq in the second half of the 13th century.

¹⁰⁶ Information about this hoard came due personal communication with Mr. Drago Damjanović who was in possession of two coin from this hoard. I would like to take this opportunity to thanks Mr. Damjanović on his time and his will to share this information. He said that pot with »several hundred« coins was found by several persons during soilwork in Poganovci. Find was divided among them. One of the persons (finder being his neighbour in his home town in Poganovci) gave Mr. Damjanović two coins. He brought one coin to AMZ (other is misplaced) for determination, and left it for keeping (personal communication).

¹⁸⁴ FND AMZ, s.v. (information provided by Andela Horvat); This hoard is named in the alphabetical index of sites of CHY (MIRNIK 1981: 204).

¹⁸⁵ The author (BONAČIĆ MANDINIĆ 1988: 69) notes the lack of archival records on the hoard and accordingly does not treat it as such. It is unlikely that this rare type of coinage would be found scattered over a small area, especially outside of a settlement; however, in this case it could have been lost over a period of time. Therefore, I am inclined to allow the possibility that this actually is a hoard.

²⁰² FND AMZ, s.v.; information provided by Anđela Horvat.

²⁰³ In his work, the author debates the end of Roman Salona and takes this hoard as one of the arguments, so I presume that the coins that he is referring to are Roman.

²⁰⁴ There is a possibility that Katić (unknowingly and without intention) is referring to the Porta Caesarea hoard found in 1933. Maybe this information, as Marović has stated, can also be related to a hoard consisting of small bronze coins (0.7 - 1 cm, 0.3 - 1 gr.) kept in the AMS (approx. 8.2 kg) without any records.

MIRNIK 1992a: 126-128.

239. Split, Poljud, 1979.

A hoard of Split mediaeval coins.

KLIŠKIĆ 2006a: 338 (footnote 51).²¹¹

²⁰⁵ MAROVIĆ 1986: 300 (no. 8, Pl. XXI: 17) presents the coin of Justinianus I that came from Grudine in 1914 (not mentioning a hoard of any kind). Given the quality of the source of Katić's information, maybe this coin was part of the »Grudine« hoard. Information should be taken into consideration (but only as a suggestion!).

²⁰⁶ The author (MARDEŠIĆ 2009) presents the excavation of a Roman theatre; detailed information on the latest coin is not provided, so tpq is not determinable. Probably the hoard can be dated to the late Roman period if it is related to the late-antiquity ceramics mentioned in the report.

37 Venetian gold coins (»Cekini«).

PATSCH 1900a: 48.

243. Sveta Trojica, Starigrad, Paklenica, between 1997 and 2008.

»33 pieces of Numidian, Carthaginian and Ptolemaic coins were found... These finds could represent another hoard of the Mazin type« (BETOL – FARAC 2012).

DUBOLNIĆ GLAVAN – GLAVAŠ 2012; BETOL – FARAC 2012.

244. Topusko, 1550.

»On 4th August 1550, two brothers, Mihalj and Marko Vinković, were brought to the court of Juraj Martinković, the bailiff of the Abbott of Topusko (Toplica), accused by the priest Ilijaš and Mikula Lucič Vodopija, attorneys of the Church, of having dug up and kept some coins«.

MIRNIK – VINCE-MARINC 2002: 480-483.

245. Topusko, 1937.

Hoard of Roman coins (a few kilos) found during the excavation of a well. Almost all the hoard is dispersed. 46 coins are kept in the City Museum, Petrinja. Approx. 2 kilos were kept in the local parish, but they were taken in 1943, by German soldiers.

MIRNIK 1985b: 104, 106.

²⁶⁶ Now Požega.

²⁶⁸ Authors (DUKAT – MIRNIK 1978) have put tpq in the 14th century, later corrected by MIRNIK 1981.

²⁶⁹ Author (MIRNIK 1994a) corrected the date of find to 1900.

²⁷⁰ No. 30; »possibly identical with Donji Miholjac« (DUKAT – MIRNIK 1978a: 19 = CHY, no. 566).

²⁷¹ Author (MIRNIK 1994a) is adding one more gold coin of Wladislaw II (disposition: GM Požega) to this hoard, although he is not dismissing possibility that that coin is part of some other unidentified hoard.

²⁷² MIRNIK – ŽDRALOVIĆ 2006 are correcting tpq to 1881.

OSTAVE NOVCA U HRVATSKOJ – SUPLEMENT CHY

Ovaj članak predstavlja ažuriranje dijela knjige I. Mirnika Coin Hoards in Yugoslavia koji raspravlja o ostavama na teritoriju Republike Hrvatske. Članak je podijeljen u tri dijela. Prvi dio raspravlja o novootkrivenim ostavama; drugi dio raspravlja o potencijalnim ostavama ili o ostavama za koje postoje samo nepotpuni podaci; naposljetku, treći dio bavi se ostavama navedenim u CHY koje su spominjane i o kojima se raspravljalo nakon objavljivanja knjige.
