

Dubrovnik 1997

»often burned stones
often acute memories
a price of a peace

trees without shadows dry rivers crawling along asylum in fog

people who tremble
keeping away from the storm a place wanted warm«

M. V. Diudea