

Dear readers,

*we proudly present the sixth volume of our journal Agroeconomia Croatica. It is a journal published by Croatian Society of Agricultural Economists, which enables our members and colleagues to release scientific and expert papers in agricultural economics and rural sociology area. There is also an electronic version of a printed journal available at the web pages of Croatian Society of Agricultural Economists (<http://www.haed.hr/aec/>), but it can be also seen at the following portals: Hrčak and AgEcon search.*

Agroeconomia Croatica is the only journal from this specific research field in Croatia and one of the few of such in the region. Journal aims to promote scientific knowledge towards wider scientific community and business as well as through integration of different scientific branches.

*This volume of Agroeconomia Croatica contains papers that discuss various topics. Four of the eight papers are research results of Croatian authors, two articles are from Serbia and two from Nigeria. Topics covered in this issue include: forensic accounting in agriculture, foreign trade exchange of tuna, comparison of agri-food development in counties of northwestern Croatia, economic efficiency of agrotourist-wine farm on the wine road, Options and prospects on processing less hazardous organic waste into a profitable product: case of compost production in the Republic of Serbia, the importance of applying the comparative method in evaluation of agricultural equipment, growth trend analysis of rice productivity in Nigeria and productivity growth of ECOWAS common crops: a tale of two competing frontier methods of analysis. Considering the wide variety of the topics, I hope you will find something interesting and useful.*

With a call for future fruitful cooperation, yours truly
