

Summary

The European dimension in education: a challenge for school teachers?

Marko Turk
Jasminka Ledić
Faculty of Humanities nad Social Sciences,
University of Rijeka, Croatia
Department of Pedagogy

Discussions and research on the European dimension in education for years occupy space in European education policy and scientific and professional area, while in the Croatian environment interest in this subject much weaker. Also, the topic was not correlated with the work of school pedagogues such has not opened the question of competence to implement this concept in their daily work.

Based on the results of national research about the competence of school pedagogues, involving the competences of the European dimension, the work will be presented the results of studies and proposals and recommendations for the implementation of the contents of this concept in higher education and vocational training.

Keywords: European dimension in education, school counselors, competence of the European dimension in education.