

INTRODUCTION

Dear Readers,

we are proud to present the new issue of the international journal Education for Entrepreneurship. This edition includes selected articles from the 7th International Conference on Entrepreneurial Learning (ICEL 7), as well as other articles that cover the areas of economics, entrepreneurship, management and education for entrepreneurship.

This journal issue is intended for all those who have a strong inclination to perceive economics as a science and as a profession, and especially those who deal with or want to engage in entrepreneurship. The journal gives a special contribution to the academic and professional community by increasing the total theoretical and empirical knowledge from all areas covered by the journal.

The focus of the journal is on social sciences - in the fields of economics, entrepreneurship and management, as well as in education and learning for entrepreneurship. Given that the goal of this journal is contribution to the development of empirical, methodological, theoretical and practical knowledge in these areas, the journal publishes works on online education in Croatia, social entrepreneurship, entrepreneurial incubator, SME finance, project management, value added tax, management accounting and other topics in the field of economics.

In the end we want to thank the authors, members of the editorial board, reviewers and all other parties involved in the realization of this issue of the journal.

We hope that you recognize the effort and work which have been invested and we invite you all to give your scientific and professional contribution as authors to future releases of the Education for Entrepreneurship journal.
