

From the Editor

Dear readers,

I am happy to introduce to you the 1st number of the 43rd volume of the Journal of Information and Organizational Sciences – JIOS. This issue includes 6 up-to-date, high-quality, and valuable contributions – original scientific papers, survey papers and preliminary communication. I am grateful to scholars from different disciplines for sending their research results to the JIOS. Research topics in this issue are spanning from ERP solutions acceptance and specifics of data analysis in various fields to review and future of digital transformation, research infrastructure and information science fields.

I would like to use this opportunity, dear readers, and invite you to submit papers at <https://jios.foi.hr>. We have been busy in the publishing offices and we have launched a new version of online manuscript submission and review system. This initiative aims to improve submission and review process. We are pleased to announce that, in this year, we will introduce Online First service which will let access to articles before print. This is possible since JIOS got DOI (Digital Object Identifier) few months ago and such articles are citable by their DOI.

All these initiatives are meant to improve quality of the journal and to strengthen its perspective. Our team continuously works on improvements and feel free to join us in making JIOS even greater! Any paper that you wish to submit is appreciated. If you have any other questions concerning the journal, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Best wishes and thank you in advance for your contribution to the JIOS!
