

Bilješke o autorima • Notes on Contributors

Marnie Campagnaro, PhD, works as a lecturer at the FISPPA Department, University of Padova. Her main research fields include the history of children's literature, picturebooks, fairy tales, and Italian children's authors. In 2017, she hosted the 6th International European Network of Picturebook Research Conference. Her most recent publications include: "Bruno Munari's Visual Mapping of the City of Milan. A Historical Analysis of the Picturebook Nella nebbia di Milano", in N. Goga, B. Kümmerling Meibauer (eds.), Maps and Mapping in Children's Literature (2017); "Do Touch! How Bruno Munari's Picturebooks Work", Rivista di storia dell'educazione (2019). <marnie.campagnaro@unipd.it>

Honglan Huang graduated from Haverford College with high honours in Comparative Literature and joined the graduate programme of Comparative Literature at Yale University in the fall of 2016. She has a longstanding interest in the material and theatrical aspects of picturebooks. Her undergraduate thesis, The Narrativity of the Medium: The Architecture of Book Space in Picture Books, received the Barbara Riley Levin Prize. <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-6536-1200>. <honglan.huang@yale.edu>

Natalia Kucirkova's research concerns innovative ways of supporting children's book reading, digital literacy, and exploring the role of personalisation in the early years. Her research takes place collaboratively across academia and commercial and third sectors. She works as Professor of Early Childhood Education and Development at the University of Stavanger, Norway, and Senior Research Fellow at University College London, UK. Her publications have appeared in: First Language; Computers & Education; Cambridge Journal of Education; Communication Disorders Quarterly; and Learning, Media & Technology. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-2805-1745>. <natalia.kucirkova@uis.no>

Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer works as Professor in the German Department at the University of Tübingen, Germany. She is the author of an encyclopaedia of international children's classics and a monograph on canon processes in children's literature. She has (co-)edited volumes with international publishers on picturebook research, early literacy, manga, and children's films. She is co-editor of two book series (John Benjamins, Winterverlag) and editor of the Routledge Companion to Picturebooks (Routledge, 2018). Joint work with Jörg Meibauer focuses on cognitive picturebook theory as well as on lying in children's literature. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-0068-557>. <bettina.kuemmerling-meibauer@uni-tuebingen.de>

Dr. sc. Berislav Majhut (1956.) redoviti je profesor na Učiteljskom fakultetu Sveučilišta u Zagrebu, Odsjek u Petrinji. Predaje kolegije iz dječje književnosti i medijske kulture. Njegovi znanstveni interesi su uglavnom u području povijesti hrvatske dječje književnosti, naratologije i ilustracije. Autor je, između ostalih, i knjiga U carevoj misiji (2016.) te Hrvatska slikovnica do 1945. (sa Štefkom Batinić, 2017.). <berislav.majhut@ufz.hr>

Jörg Meibauer is Professor Emeritus of German Language and Linguistics at the Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz, Germany. His main field of research is the grammar-pragmatics interface. He is the author of Lying at the Semantics-pragmatics Interface (De Gruyter, 2014), and editor of the Oxford Handbook of Lying (Oxford University Press, 2019). Joint work with Bettina Kümmerling-Meibauer focuses on cognitive theories of picturebooks and on the role of lying and deception in children's literature. <meibauer@uni-mainz.de>

Ana Margarida Ramos, PhD, is Assistant Professor at the Department of Languages and Cultures at the University of Aveiro, in Portugal. She is a Full Researcher of the Research Centre for Languages, Literatures and Cultures and a collaborator of the Research Centre for Didactics and Technology in Trainers Education, both of the University of Aveiro. She has organised several national and international conferences, including in 2015 The Child and The Book Conference – Fractures and Disruptions in Children’s Literature. She is the author and co-author of several books, book chapters and international journal articles (in Portuguese, English and Spanish). <https://orcid.org/0000-0001-5126-4389>. <anamargarida@ua.pt>

Ilgim Veryeri Alaca is Assistant Professor at Koç University, Department of Media and Visual Arts. Her current work focus on the materiality of picturebooks. Her articles have appeared in: Bookbird: A Journal of International Children’s Literature; International Journal of Education through Art; Leonardo; International Journal of Child-Computer Interaction; and Drawing: Research, Theory, Practice. She has contributed to The Routledge Companion to Picturebooks and The Routledge International Handbook of Early Literacy Education. She has co-edited the focus section “Transforming Books and the Reading Experience through Interactive Technologies” in IxD&A Journal. <https://orcid.org/0000-0002-7512-1507>. <ialaca@ku.edu.tr>

Angela Yannicopoulou is Professor of Children’s Literature at the Department of Preschool Education at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. She is mainly interested in the research of picturebooks and the teaching of literature and visual literacy. Her articles have appeared in Greek and international journals. She has published books in English, including Aesopic Fables and Children: Form and Function, and in Greek, To Syhrono Eikonografimeno Paidiko Vivlio [The Contemporary Picturebook] and To Eikonografimeno Vivlio stin Prosholiki Ekpaideusi [Picturebooks in Preschool Education]. <https://orcid.org/0000-0003-4680-1551>. <aggianik@ecd.uoa.gr>