

LUCIJA RADOŠ

LATIN POETRY BY FRANJO KLOHAMER

Summary

In the bibliography of Croatian Latinism compiled by Šime Jurić, Franjo Klohamer is represented by as many as some ninety bibliographical units. He pursued his career as a professor of mathematics in Zagreb in the first half of the 19th century, but was also prominent as a poet and writer of occasional verses. All his published works were written in Latin. The paper tries to throw some light on his Latin works, and find his place in the occasional poetry of the first half of the 19th century.
