Instructions to Authors

General

When preparing a manuscript, please strictly comply with the following guidelines, as well as with the ethical standards of scientific publishing.

Manuscripts should be written in English. If English is not your native language, please arrange for the text to be reviewed by a professional editing service. Maintain a consistent style with regard to spelling (either UK or US English), punctuation, nomenclature, symbols, etc. The Editorial Board retains the right to reject without comment or explanation manuscripts that are not prepared in accordance with these guidelines.

Manuscript Structure

• Title – should be concise and unambiguous, and must reflect the contents of the article.
• List of authors – should include all persons who contributed substantially to study planning, experimental work, data collection or interpretation of results and should be a summary of up to 200 words. The summary should be self-contained and understandable by a non-expert reader.
• Keywords – the keywords should be a selection of up to 8 terms that reflect the contents of the article.
• References – for reference and citation format use the ACM CCS (2012) classification – provide the classification of your manuscript’s topic according to ACM CCS (2012) classification (http://dl.acm.org/ccs/ccs.cfm). The authors’ names and addresses should not appear in the body of the manuscript, to preserve anonymity and ensure a blind reviewing process.
• Manuscript must be written without the use of footnotes.
• Sections and subsections should be clearly distinguished with a three-level structure at most. No deeper levels of structure are allowed. If you need to further substructure your text, use paragraph titles instead.
• Manuscript should be written using a 12pt Times New Roman font with single spacing. The running text should be a summary of up to 200 words. The summary should be self-contained and understandable by a non-expert reader.
• Mathematical expressions and Greek or other symbols should be written clearly with ample spacing.
• Manuscript Submission

Manuscripts should be submitted electronically via the Journal’s management system OJS. Instructions for registering and submitting a manuscript can be found at http://cit.fer.hr/index.php/CIT/about/submissions/onlineSubmissio}
