Bronze Award

The basis of the logo idea for Faculty of Civil Engineering of the University of Rijeka is „the construction of building“ through the symbolism of rows as „floors“. Given the dynamism of the profession and the simplicity of such a basic element, the possibility of its adaptability and openness to all situations makes the logo mod-ular and scalable. This modularity and scalability is visible in the fact that the logo can be chameleon-wise adapted to each application, while maintaining a clear identity link and recognizability.
