

CONTENTS

Ministry and ecclesiality in the contemporary world	261
Biblical notions of service and ecclesiasticity of services	277
Leadership and presiders of the church as a form of ministry	309
Leadership and heads of the church as a form of ministry –
A Pastoral view	325
Harmony in the diversity of liturgical ministries	335
Permanent diaconate as a way of personalising ministries of the church and being the agitator of constant revival in the Church.	367
Openness of the Church towards the mission of women	383
Ministry as a meeting point for church and social services	405
Volunteering as a new form of Church service	423
New pastoral opportunities for ministries of the church	445
INFORMATIONS	479
RECENSIONS	487
IN MEMORIAM	491