VIDA DEMARIN

The 50th anniversary of publishing the world-renowned orthopaedics journal International Orthopaedics was celebrated 7–8 November 2025 in Paris. The journal's yearlong Editor in Chief used to be Professor Marko Pećina, F.C.A., who continues his membership in the Editorial Board in the function of Editor Emeritus.

During the festive dinner and the jubilee meeting of the Editorial Board, Professor Vikas Khanduja, Cambridge, UK, the actual president of SICOT – Société Internationale de Chirurgie Orthopédique et de Traumatologie (International Society of Orthopaedic Surgery and Traumatology) expressed special thanks to Professor Pećina, in whose editor's mandate this publication got included among the most prestigious orthopaedics journals worldwide. In his address, Prof. V. Khanduja said, inter alia:

“Marko Pećina from Croatia was Editor in Chief from 2008 to 2014 and invested himself with high energy upraising the Journal to an impressive 12 issues volume and over 2400 pages per year since 2012. The notoriety of the Journal and the citations raised and ‘International Orthopaedics’ became one of the most prominent and read orthopaedic publications worldwide.”

Yearlong Corresponding Member of the journal's Editorial Board is Slobodan Vukičević, F.C.A., as well as Professor DSc Miroslav Hašpl.

Professor Pećina donates at regular intervals issues of the journal to the Central Medical Library of our Faculty.

The Editorial Board of RAD – Medical Sciences congratulates Professor Marko Pećina on the acknowledgement received.
