THE REFLECTION OF MAN'S EVERYDAY LIFE IN THE LEGENDS ABOUT ST PETER

SUMMARY

Man's everyday life is presented in the article as evident in Slovenian stories with Christian content, more precisely, in the legends about St Peter. The analysis relates to 155 Slovenian legends about St Peter from the entire Slovenian ethnic territory as collected and already noted down.

Firstly, the names are given of the persons appearing in the legends encompassed by this analysis: from the main actors to minor persons, all categorised into individual groups. Further, the mode and types of nutrition are shown, along with the appearance of the attire worn, the dwellings occupied by ordinary people and the outbuildings beside them. Apart from theoretical concepts, the terms are substantiated with quotations from the individual legends.

Key words: Slovenian legends, St Peter, socio-linguistics, ethnology, literary folklore, everyday life
