E-library is a collection of published papers (journal articles, congress abstracts, etc.) related to bioarchaeology and paleodontology available in pdf format. Papers in all languages are welcome.

The aim of this project is to promote papers from this field of science, increasing their availability and encouraging their exchange. Papers can be added to this list only by their author(s) using the online submission form available at www.paleodontology.com. Authors are responsible for obtaining permission to submit copyrighted papers.

The IAPO "JOURNALS" project is a list of high quality journals available free of charge online (open access) welcoming papers on topics ranging from bioarchaeology and paleodontology to anthropology and archaeology. Journals in all languages are welcome.

The aim of this project is promotion of open access online journals covering bioarchaeology and related sciences in order to simplify the transfer of scientific information between scientists and publishers. Journal publishers and all IAPO members are invited to suggest journals using the online journal submission form available at www.paleodontology.com.

The IAPO "BOOKS" project is a list of books about paleodontology or books containing chapters about paleodontology. Books about bioarchaeology and related sciences are also welcome regardless of the language in which they are written. The aim of this project is to establish a database of books from this field of science and to provide a suggested reading list for all readers interested, but especially for young scientists starting their career in bioarchaeology and paleodontology.

Book publishers and all IAPO members are invited to suggest books using the online book submission form available at www.paleodontology.com. Publishers can also use the opportunity to advertise their books on this website. For more information, please contact advertising@paleodontology.com.
