

Aim and Scope

Kairos: Evangelical Journal of Theology is a Croatian scientific journal that addresses biblical, theological and religious topics. Kairos publishes works in various disciplines: biblical studies, biblical theology, systematic theology, applied theology, church history and Christian ethics, as well as book reviews. With its content, Kairos intends to contribute a biblical and theological perspective to discussions in academia, church and society primarily in Croatian and European contexts, but also beyond.