

INSTRUCTIONS TO AUTHORS

Acta Turistica publishes manuscripts dealing with various aspects of the tourism phenomenon in the fields of economics, geography, sociology, management, marketing, entrepreneurship, finance, and other disciplines related to tourism while incorporating theoretical and practical work.

Aims and Scope: Acta Turistica is strategically oriented towards connecting the Croatian and the world tourism research community, its academics, practitioners and students. It is intended to encourage deliberations on the pertinent issues. Today Acta turistica is facing new challenges constantly competing with the favoured Western journals, as well as reaffirming its relevance in the dissemination of scientific positions on crucial issues of tourism development of interest both to Croatian readers and to global audiences. Acta Turistica continues to publish simultaneously in Croatian and English, thus promoting linguistic diversity, updating the Croatian scientific terminology, and focusing on multiculturalism through a multidisciplinary approach.

Reviewing Process: All contributions are subject to Acta Turistica's editorial approval and are refereed through a double-blind reviewing process anonymously, objectively, and independently. In case of conflicting reviews a third expert is consulted. The manuscripts are categorized as original scientific articles, preliminary communications, or review and conference papers.

Copyright Issues and self-archiving : The authors are entitled to moral and intellectual rights regarding their manuscripts. The authors are granted the right to archive pre-print, post-print and publisher's versions of the manuscripts on their personal web pages, and in institutional and thematic repositories.

The journal upholds the legal standards of the Republic of Croatia in connection with the copyright and publishing rights while adhering to the above stated policies on open access, licencing and self-archiving, as well as to the generally accepted ethical and formal rules on academic writing.

All papers are assigned a DOI number with the source with the Hrčak portal of Croatian scientific journals. The authors are encouraged to cite always – when self-archiving or referencing papers – the assigned DOI in its full form.

Open Access Statement: This journal provides open access to its content based on the principle that making research results freely available to the public supports greater global exchange of knowledge. The rights to use the papers are defined by the Creative Commons CC BY-NC 4.0 licence. The users are allowed to read, download, copy, distribute, print, and work on or apply them in other legal ways free-of-charge provided that they correctly cite the sources and the non-commercial purpose of the usage.

Acta Turistica does not charge any submission or publishing fee.

Publishing Ethics: The views expressed in the journal are not necessarily those of the Editor, the Editorial Board or the publisher.

The authors guarantee that the material submitted to Acta Turistica is original and not published or submitted for publication elsewhere, and provide complete citations of all publications included in the article to avoid plagiarism. They shall refrain from fraudulent or knowingly inaccurate statements, and represent the data accurately to allow for replication of their work.

The originality of the papers is verified by using the Turnitin software.

Authorship should be limited to persons who have contributed significantly and who are quoted as co-authors, while other partakers should be acknowledged and/or recorded as contributors. The first author is responsible for involving all authors and for coordinating the correspondence between the journal and the authors.

Possible conflicts of interest, financial or other conflicts that might be interpreted as affecting the outcomes or the analyses of the research should be clearly stated.

Language: Author(s) from Croatia are required to submit the manuscripts in the Croatian and the English languages. International authors are required to submit the manuscripts in English that will subsequently be translated into Croatian. The Editor's office expects the papers to be written in correct academic style of either American or British variant, but not a mixture of both.
