Papers submitted to History in Flux should adhere to the ethical policy found on the website of the Journal (https://ffpu.unipu.hr/history-in-flux). Authors are strongly encouraged to use double spacing, number the pages consecutively beginning with page 1 and to attach any illustrations, tables or figures as well as the legends to illustrations in a separate file, indicating the location of the figures in the main text with a bold-faced remark (example: figure 1 here; table 2 here). All tables and figures must be referred to in the main text.

The title page should include the following:
• Name Surname of the author(s). If more than one, please list alphabetically by Last name (example: Samuel Bowen and Martina Stevens)
• Affiliation of the author(s)
• Contact information for the author (postal and/or email address)
• Abstract up to 250 words
• 5–10 keywords

History in Flux uses the Chicago Manual of Style 17th edition format (NB: Notes-Bibliography System) for citations and bibliographies. Footnotes should be used with a comprehensive bibliography. The first note for each source should contain all relevant information. Subsequent mentions in the paper should include the author’s last name, a shortened title and the page number.

Journal articles often list many authors, especially in the sciences. If there are four or more authors, list up to ten in the bibliography; in a note, list only the first, followed by et al. (“and others”). For more than ten authors (not shown here), list the first seven in the bibliography, followed by et al.

WEBSITE CONTENT
It is often sufficient simply to describe web pages and other website content in the text (“As of May 1, 2017, Yale’s home page listed . . .”). If a more formal citation is needed, it may be styled like the examples below. For a source that does not list a date of publication or revision, include an access date (as in example note 2).
