INSTRUCTIONS TO REVIEWERS

Prior to publication in Acta Turistica, each contributed paper is peer-reviewed by minimally two external, independent reviewers specialized in corresponding field of interest. Whenever possible, paper is send to one domestic and one international review. If the two reviews are contrastive, the paper is sent on the third review, usually international.

Each reviewer gets anonymous paper and a review form directly from Editor-in-Chief. At review form, reviewer evaluates a paper and suggests a category (type) of paper. Fill-in form is returned to Editorial Board. On the basis of gathered review forms final decision on paper publication is made.

The remarks and comments made by reviewers are delivered to contributors, but the reviewers stay unknown to the author/s of the paper. Additionally, reviewers of the same paper stay unknown to each other.

Scrutinized instructions and review forms are given to reviewers in direct correspondence with Editorial Board.
